

SAVES Program

June 2015— First Edition

MIAMI DADE COUNTY PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Daysi M. Noy-Viamonte and the SAVES program

Daysi M. Noy-Viamonte came with her mother from Cuba in April 2014. They were amazed by how diversity of cultures, intellectual views, and vision of this country are integrated to complete the mission of promoting the development of the United States into one republic, conceived in justice and equality for all.

In the beginning, Ms. Noy-Viamonte only saw obstacles, and the distance of her goals seemed far away. However, according to her, all changes when one has the courage to make strong choices each day. In her own words, "With the guidance of God and without fear, everything is possible if you believe."

Ms. Noy-Viamonte registered for English classes at Miami Springs Adult Education Center on April 21, 2014. SAVES gave Ms. Noy-Viamonte the opportunity to prepare, allowing her to develop skills for life, to receive English language instruction, and complete the high school equivalent in the General Education Development (GED) program.

Ms. Noy-Viamonte graduated in December 2014. She would like to thank her family for the constant support, her excellent teachers, and the SAVES bright staff professionals, such as Ms. Ivon Manzo and school registrar Ms. Maria Lopez.

Ms. Daysi Noy-Viamonte applied to Miami-Dade College, and was accepted. She will start classes on May 11, 2015. She wishes to become a Pharmacy Technician. She feels that if one takes advantage of small challenges, it will help find the way of taking great steps for making one's dreams possible and have success in the things that the heart loves. We wish Ms. Noy-Viamonte the very best in her future endeavors.
